

February 27, 2003 Public Meeting

TxDOT will conduct an open house format public meeting on February 27, 2003, in order to present our findings of the reevaluation of the Final Environmental Impact Statement (FEIS) for the Katy Freeway reconstruction project. Recognizing the unique nature of this meeting, and TxDOT's desire to receive as much public participation in the comment process as possible, TxDOT has agreed to add an option for receiving public comment at the meeting. TxDOT will make provisions for the public to give their verbal comments to an audience in an auditorium adjacent to the main meeting room. These comments will be received from 8:00 to 9:00 p.m., and will be tape recorded for the official record.

At Thursday's meeting you will have the opportunity to review the FEIS Reevaluation and schematic. You may discuss and ask questions regarding the design and operational refinements that have been proposed since the initial FEIS was approved last year. You may make verbal and written comments during the open house or you may submit your written comments postmarked by March 12, 2003.